

Big Snow Storm Hits Oregon; Threats Flood

We Might Get A Little Rain In Desert Area

Amateur weather buffs who prognosticated a rainy year received some substantiation last night and early today as more mist covered the desert area and left enough dampness to measure 1-100th of an inch at the weather station. It brought the seasonal total here to nearly half an inch.

Soviets Relax Pressure for Finnish Talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — A joint Finnish-Soviet communique said today the Soviet Union had agreed to postpone military consultations with Finland after President Urho Kekkonen indicated a contrary move would increase tension in Scandinavia.

The joint communique published today following a dramatic meeting in Novosibirsk Friday between the Finnish president and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

A Soviet note of Oct. 30 had proposed military consultations with Finland to combat what the Kremlin called a growing danger to Soviet and Finnish frontiers from an alleged West German military buildup in northern Europe and the Baltic area.

Fear of Tension

Today's communique said Kekkonen had told Khrushchev that military consultations presumably would lead to Soviet requests for concessions which "would cause a certain amount of tension and war psychosis in the Scandinavian countries."

Observers in Moscow said they believed Kekkonen's mention of concessions referred to possible Soviet bases on Finnish soil.

The communique said Khrushchev expressed confidence in Kekkonen's ability to continue Finland's present policy of friendship toward the Soviet Union.

"The Soviet government," it said, "believes it can postpone the military consultations which the Soviet government had suggested."

Khrushchev also remarked, the communique said, that both Russian and Finland should continue to watch developments in the Baltic and northern Europe.

Unity Move

(The announcement followed a national unity move by Kekkonen's chief opponent in forthcoming presidential elections, Olavi Honka, who announced his withdrawal from the race "in the interests of the country.")

Carrier Taking Troops, 'Copters To S. Viet Nam

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Military Sea Transportation Service has confirmed that an American aircraft carrier sailed Tuesday for Saigon, South Viet Nam, with a cargo of troops and helicopters.

The Army said the troops included the 57th Light Helicopter Co., from Ft. Lewis, Wash., and the 8th Light Helicopter Co. from Ft. Bragg, N.C. The strength of the two units is at least 40 helicopters and 400 troops.

The MSTs said the troops sailed aboard the "jeep-sized" carrier Core about 24 hours earlier than had been planned, because "she was unloaded and reloaded sooner than expected."

Anthropologist to Decide Amelia Earhart Mystery

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Fragments of human bone and 37 human teeth that may be the remains of aviatrix Amelia Earhart and her navigator were put in a safe today until an anthropologist can examine them.

The remains were found on the island of Saipan by Fred Goerner, a newsman with radio KGBS in San Francisco. They were flown to San Francisco early today.

Goerner said Friday he believes the teeth and bone fragments are the remains of Miss Earhart and navigator Fred Noonan, who disappeared July 2, 1937, on a flight from New Guinea to tiny Howland Island as they tried to circle the globe in a twin-engine Lockheed Electra.

Their disappearance without a trace set off a huge naval search and resulted in an enduring mystery.

Councilmen Face Zone Protests

Property Owners In Area Oppose Commercial Zone

By PEYTON CANARY

Strong protests from adjacent property owners are expected during the Monday evening city council hearing on the zone change application by the Biltmore Hotel.

The city planning commission held three sessions on the application, finally recommending a city compromise. The hotel, asking changes from guest ranch to R-3 and R-2 multiple commercial residential zoning, was countered by a property owners' committee which proposed a compromise.

Telephones Knocked Out

The Oregon snow reached points which haven't held snow on the ground in years. The storm knocked out thousands of telephones from Eugene to Grants Pass, and one motorist had to be rescued by horseback after snow-laden trees fell in front of his car and behind it.

One victim was reported in the popular ski resort of Arapahoe Basin, Colo., Friday when a University of Colorado student was buried in an avalanche. James Dorwin, 20, was struck as he was making the last run of the day down one of the steeper slopes. Had the avalanche started earlier many skiers might have been trapped.

Storm Covers State

The Los Angeles area received a quarter-inch of rain early this morning in a storm which was headed toward the desert. The fall raised the season's total there to 1.56 inches.

Weathermen said the storm covered nearly all of California and was due to a low pressure center about 200 miles off the coast.

Palm Springs high yesterday of 64 topped all over Southern California points and the predicted high of 61 today was expected to do likewise. Other highs yesterday included a 58 at Long Beach, 55 at Palmdale, 49 at Mt. Wilson, 61 at Riverside, 53 at San Diego and 60 at Bakersfield.

Dominicans in Crisis Huddle

SANTO DOMINGO, D.R. (UPI) — President Joaquin Balaguer huddled today behind closed doors with major opposition leaders in an effort to end the Dominican Republic's political crisis.

Balaguer met for more than three hours Friday in the presidential palace with his political opponents in an attempt to find a formula acceptable to them for governing the newly freed republic until elections can be held.

The meetings came as the Dominican presidential yacht Angelita was ordered to return to port because of rumors that $90 million in gold had been smuggled aboard the vessel.

No one was willing to officially discuss the yacht, pleasure ship of the playboy son of the late dictator, Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo.

JFK COLD WAR VIEWS TOLD SOVIET NEWSMAN

President Gives Nikita Son-in-Law Exclusive Talks

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — President Kennedy was interviewed at his home today by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's son-in-law, a leading Red journalist who offered to publish a complete version of what Kennedy had to say.

Aleksei I. Adzhubei, editor of the official Soviet government newspaper Izvestia, began questioning Kennedy about cold war issues and other matters shortly after entering the weekend White House at 10:40 a.m. EST with White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger.

The chief executive, on a business and pleasure Thanksgiving holiday at Cape Cod, granted the interview in hope of letting the Russian people know more about America's position in the tense world situation.

Adzhubei told newsmen here in advance of the interview that he hopes it will "facilitate improvement of our relations" because "the destiny of the world depends" on Soviet-American relations.

Will Publish

He also said he hoped "to publish the entire text of the interview although this is up to the President to decide." Kennedy and Salinger were understood to hope he would do exactly that when the item appears in Izvestia, probably Tuesday.

Adzhubei spoke through his interpreter, Georgi Bolshikov, editor of U.S.S.R. English-language magazine the Soviet Union distributes in the United States.

Kennedy's appointment with Adzhubei was the only item of business on his agenda for today.

There was another important event, however—a birthday party for daughter Caroline, who will be four years old Monday.

Brother Has Cold

Caroline's baby brother, John Jr., was to have shared in the honors, but he is remaining at the White House in Washington under his nurse's care because of a slight cold.

Friday, Kennedy put in a full day of conferences with key advisers on military spending, foreign trade, and civil defense. The biggest announcement to come out of it was that a federal program for community fallout shelters to protect some 50 million Americans has been accelerated by six months and will be completed by next June.

NEWS in BRIEF

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Navy jet fighter has streaked through the air at an average of more than 1,600 miles an hour—2½ times the speed of sound—to set a new world's speed record for a jet airplane, the Navy said today.

The F4H Phantom II jet averaged 1,606.342 miles an hour for about 20 miles, 81 miles an hour faster than the existing mark held by the Air Force. The X15 experimental rocket plane has flown faster.

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Mrs. Fanny Harper celebrated her 103rd birthday Friday with the admission that "I'm beginning to feel really old for the first time in my life."

By United Press International

The long Thanksgiving holiday weekend headed into the home stretch today with more than 200 persons dead in traffic accidents.

The death pace of approximately four fatalities an hour was on schedule with pre-holiday estimates. The National Safety Council had expected the final toll between 6 p.m. Wednesday and midnight Sunday would be 450, the normal for a 102-hour non-holiday period in November.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Official sources expressed belief today that the Russians have been testing nuclear anti-missile warheads in space above the atmosphere. They also said the Russians have staged a number of underground atomic explosions.

Zoning for Industry Is Before Board

RIVERSIDE — Eight items of special interest to desert area residents will be considered by the county supervisors during the meeting beginning 9 a.m. Monday.

Planning matters include a recommendation for extension of an M-3 industrial zoning permit to William E. Colven for a trailer park in the Cathedral City area, and recommendation for granting of an M-3 permit to C. M. Ross for a trailer park in the Thousand Palms area. Other planning matters are consideration of initiation of proceedings to vacate a portion of Jefferson Street in the Bermuda Dunes district, and a report on the request by the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce for extension southward of Cathedral Canyon Drive.

The supervisors will consider a recommendation by county counsel for an agreement with the Palm Valley Water Co. for service to county maintenance district seven.

U.S. Atomic Tests to Come With Ban Talks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Arthur H. Dean, chief U.S. nuclear negotiator, said Friday night the United States "absolutely" would set off nuclear explosions during the upcoming Geneva test ban talks despite Russian warnings to the contrary.

"Our slogan will be 'test and talk,'" Dean said. "We absolutely will have tests while the talks are going on."

Dean, who spoke at a news conference on the eve of his departure tonight for the talks which open Tuesday, also indicated the United States was going to take a hard line at the Geneva conference table.

Await Red Offers

"If there's going to be any treaty," he said, "the offers will have to come from Russia." The United States will not alter the treaty proposals it already has made, he said.

Russia this week accepted the U.S.-British proposal to resume nuclear test talks that were broken off Sept. 9 when the Soviets resumed their atmospheric blasts. But in accepting, the Communists warned the West against new tests of their own. Russia suggested another voluntary moratorium, but Dean indicated this was unacceptable.

The negotiator said it was up to President Kennedy whether the U.S. nuclear tests would include atmospheric explosions, but he added that "we reserve complete freedom of action." He indicated the United States in any case was ready to hold underground tests.

Spa Area Accidents Reported Increasing

Accidents in this resort city from Jan. 1 through Nov. 24 are up 40 from the count for the same period in 1960, the police traffic division announced.

Total reportable accidents for the year were 227, including two fatalities in two accidents. During 1960, 187 accidents were reported in the same period, with two fatalities in one accident.

Young Rocky Clue Found

MERAUKE, New Guinea (UPI) — A Dutch naval vessel found a "numbered gas tank" today 20 miles off the New Guinea coast, it was reported. It was not immediately certain whether the tank was one of the gasoline cans Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's missing son used to swim toward shore from a capsized native boat Sunday.

The gas tank was spotted on the north coast of Hendrik Fredrik Island, the Dutch ship reported.

The search for Michael Rockefeller had focused on efforts to locate his two gasoline cans on the theory that their whereabouts would indicate whether he reached land.

Dutch district commissioner Eibrink Jansen said the red-painted cans probably would be found on the mudflat shore of Flamingo Bay if Michael made it, and on Hendrik Fredrik Island if he didn't.

Soviets Veto UN Power in Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Soviet attempts to limit U.N. authority in the Congo made it appear today that the Kremlin's "honeymoon" with Acting Secretary General Thant is over.

Thant made it clear, however, that despite Soviet vetoes on specific powers for the United Nations he plans to take whatever action is necessary to maintain order in the strife-torn jungle nation.

Thant's statement climaxed a two-week dispute in the Security Council over a U.S. proposal that the United Nations be empowered to deal with the whole problem of disunity in the Congo rather than merely the secession of Katanga Province.

Neither side mentioned it, but the core of the debate was the reported efforts of Communist-trained Antoine Gizenga, political heir to leftist Patrice Lumumba, to promote open rebellion against the Leopoldville government.

Russia vetoed a U.S.-sponsored authorization for Thant to seize arms likely to be used against the United Nations or the central government anywhere in the Congo and for the acting secretary general to assist in rebuilding the Congo army so that it could take over U.N. military tasks.

Despite the vetoes — Russia's 96th and 97th — Thant told the council he would not heed the implied limitation of his powers.

Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin warned that any defiance by Thant of Russia's vetoes could have "sad results."

'Leniency for Love' Trial Of Judge Nears Ending

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The "leniency for love" trial of Downey, Calif., Municipal Judge Lynn W. Johnston was expected to go to the jury Monday.

Johnston, 43, was accused of four counts of bribery. The prosecution claimed he offered four women defendants leniency for dates. Johnston denied the charges and claimed he was framed because he was investigating the Downey Police Department's handling of narcotics investigations.

The trial was recessed Friday after Joan Warr, editor of a Huntington Park, Calif., weekly newspaper, testified one of the prosecution witnesses told her she had been offered a shortened sentence by the district attorney's office if she would testify against the jurist.

The witness, Mrs. Ann Coffman, denied under cross-examination that a "deal" had been made with the prosecutor's office for her testimony.

Defense Attorney Melvin Belli then asked Mrs. Coffman if "There was some conversation about adjusting your sentence?"

"They were going to try, they were going to try to talk to my probation officer," Mrs. Coffman replied.

Belli then asked if "when they left, you had hopes of a shorter sentence?"

"Why certainly," Mrs. Coffman replied, "but not for testifying."

Johnston was arrested last July when he registered at a Beach City motel with one of the four women who accused him of the propositions.

Ben Ferguson's Rites Conducted

INGLEWOOD — Private funeral services were conducted here Friday for Ben Thomas Ferguson, 58, who lived at 77-690 California Drive, Palm City.

Ferguson, a native of Oklahoma, died in Desert Hospital after a brief illness. He had lived in California 30 years, in Palm City six months. Ferguson was an accountant for Camp Richardson, and a member of the Inglewood Lodge 41 of the Free and Accepted Masons.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Doris Ferguson, Palm City; two sons, Stanley, of Montana, and Wayne, Inglewood; a brother, Frank Ferguson, Redondo Beach, and a sister, Mrs. Virginia Hickock, Santa Rosa.

STRANGE THINGS HAPPENED TO BOB HOPE IN 25 YEARS

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series of five dispatches on comedian Bob Hope.)

By RALPH H. COSHAM

LONDON (UPI) — A lot of strange things can happen to a guy in 25 years of movie-making. Particularly if that guy is Bob Hope.

Hope went to Hollywood in 1937 to make "The Big Broadcast of 1938" the movie which made him — and "Thanks for the Memory" — famous.

He's traveled a long way since then, entertaining troops and civilians all over the world. He's made millions—in business as well as the entertainment world—and given a lot of it away.

Gets Honors

He's been honored, too, for his services to the entertainment world, the war effort and humanity. His latest award came here, when U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce handed him the Academy of Achievement's "Golden Plate Award."

"Crosby should get this," Hope cracked. "Seven kids is quite an achievement."

All this—and much more—was made possible because a little boy imitated Charlie Chaplin to amuse his friends and worked his way up the show business ladder rung by rung.

"My experience in vaudeville I wouldn't trade for anything in the world," Hope said. "The knowledge I gained there has enabled me to do the low comedy of things like 'Road to Hong Kong' and the slick satire of something like 'Bachelor in Paradise' in which I play a sociologist writing an account of life in suburban America."

"It's practically a straight legitimate role."

"Bachelor in Paradise," he said almost got him a bad name.

"Like Babykiller," he said.

"You see, there's a scene in the movie where I'm diapering a baby. Well, during one rehearsal, I'm pouring oil and powder all over this kid—it looks like I'm making a cake — and I've got oil all over my hands and all over the baby."

"Well, when I tried to pick the baby up, naturally it slipped right through my hands and off the table. Fortunately there was a prop man under the table just waiting for something like that, and he caught the baby."

"It was very lucky. It would have been a terrible advertisement for the movie."

"Bob nearly got himself a bad name another way, too," said Ted Richmond, the film's producer. "We were on location in Woodlake Hills, Calif., where we had taken over a complete street on one of those development sites."

Wants Shower

"We'd just finished a scene where Bob gets covered in soap and he said he wanted to take a shower. Well, we'd rented three of the houses so I told him to help himself."

"He knocked on one door and a woman answered. She said sure he could take a shower—but in the middle of it her husband came home."

"He calmed down when he saw that it really was Bob Hope who came out of the bathroom."

But the strange things that happen to a movie actor are not always so funny. Monty Grice, who has been feeding Hope gags for 16 years, remembers one which might have ended Hope's career.

"We were making 'Fancy Pants,'" he said, "and there was a scene in there where Bob was supposed to be learning to ride. Lucille Ball was teaching him."

"Well, we rigged up a barrel with a saddle and hung it from the ceiling with a rope attached so we could make it buck and everything."

"Bob got on and everything went fine for a while, then suddenly the saddle slipped and Bob fell off—right on his head. Later we found that he had dislocated a shoulder, but right then we didn't know what was wrong."

"Everybody was groaning and praying, and Bob just lay there like he was dead. Finally the ambulance came and two stretcher bearers came and started to carry him away."

"They just started walking off the set and Hope uttered his first sound: 'First tee at Lakeside, fellas.'"

Next: Hope and his writers.

A REALTOR'S NOTES

by Isabelle Cameron

COULD THERE BE ANYTHING MORE INSPIRING than gazing through your window to see the snow-capped mountains of San Geronio and San Jacinto as I did today... One realizes a certain peace and security knowing they are our protectors... and while the sun cast myriad dancing shadows on the fairways in front of me... it came home to me that truly the Patron Saints of Palm Springs should be San Geronio and San Jacinto.

SAN GORGONIO IS THE Spanish name for Saint Geronio... Saint Geronio was a Roman who worked in the Imperial Palace... Incensed by the persecution of the Christians... Geronio did in fact himself become a Christian and in the year 304 A.D. was martyred in the arenas of Rome... Mount San Geronio is 11,600 feet high.

SAN JACINTO IS THE Spanish name for Saint Hyacinth... Saint Hyacinth was a Pole and a Dominican Father who was venerated as the "Apostle of the North," where he worked in the Scandinavian countries... Saint Hyacinth died in 1257 A.D. and the glorious mountain bearing his name is 10,800 feet high... The Padres in the early days so named these mountains... I personally shall never again view this site without feeling a reverence for the "Patron Saints"... Thousands of visitors and residents will soon be taking a tramway to the top of San Jacinto.

ON A HILLSIDE VIEW LOT in Rancho Mirage we offer a home at the very low price of $22,500.00... Owners have already purchased a larger home and must sell... hence the price. There are three bedrooms and two baths with really good wardrobe space. Built in oven and range in the kitchen and garbage disposal. The living room has wonderful beamed ceilings and a raised fireplace with hearth... Much storage in the two car carport... plumbing for washer-dryer... Completely enclosed backyard... There is furnace heat and refrigeration air-conditioning... The terms are good... The location is excellent... The view is fabulous... and if you want perfection, a new paint job may be on your agenda... THE PRICE IS RIGHT.

ACREAGE WITH PUBLIC UTILITY WATER AND POWER... almost impossible to believe at ONLY $1500.00 per acre... LARGE ENOUGH TO DEVELOP... 100 plus acres. It's right off the freeway... and surely you have seen tremendous shopping centers... apartment houses... home developments... and by the hundreds... all JUST OFF THE FREEWAY as you drive from Los Angeles to Palm Springs... and it all happened in the past few years... it's going to happen here too... Don't miss the opportunity to invest in this land JUST OFF THE FREEWAY... In the directional growth... You have to drive past it to get to Thunderbird, Tamarisk, Rancho Mirage, Palm Desert... and its only ten minutes from Palm Springs City limits... Wouldn't you say it has a future?... I do.

THERE IS REAL PLEASURE-ABLENESS living on the fairways of Indian Wells Country Club... with acres of plus green fairways for your front yard... Homes range on the fairways from $42,000.00 up... Lots from $13,500 up... So... if I were you... I wouldn't miss... the opportunity to purchase... a beautiful custom designed contemporary home... furnished by Vee Nisley... Two bedrooms, two baths, den... Wonderful pool and deck area... built-in general electric kitchen... five-ton refrigeration... furnace heat... with a view "par excellence"... being offered at only $39,950.00... and when we say this is a STEAL... believe me that is no "Irish malarkey."

Studio Preview Sets Record For Drive In

All attendance records were broken at the Sun Air Drive-In Theater last night with the showing of Frank Capra's production of Damon Runyon's "Pocketful of Miracles."

The picture starred Bette Davis as "Apple Anne" whose lucky apples provided the theme of the production, and who proved her worth as a great actress. Other starring roles were handled by Hope Lange and Arthur O'Connell.

Pete Falk, who portrayed the part of a "gang" member who was second in command of the underworld group, does an outstanding job in pure Runyonese, and his acting ability smooths out the plot and keeps the story moving with interest.

Many familiar faces are seen in the picture, including Thomas Mitchell, Edward Everett Horton, David Brian, Jerome Cowen, Barton McClain, John Littel, and Sheldon Reynolds.

The studio preview was shown with "X-15," the motion picture produced by Frank Sinatra and narrated by Jimmy Stewart. The timely motion picture uses hundreds of feet of colored film actually shot by the Air Force of America's fastest plane in action.

The "X-15" will continue to run through Tuesday night and is co-featured with "Gun Street."

New Screen Will Reflect MIDAS

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A system was being developed today which would instantly display on theater-sized screens anything seen by Air Force MIDAS satellites from orbit over Communist territory.

General Electric disclosed Thursday that the equipment was being developed under contract from Lockheed Missiles and Space Co., prime contractor for Midas, which is designed to flash instant warning of enemy missile launchings.

Seeks to Form Institute of Fine Art Chapter

CATHEDRAL CITY — A call for traditional artists was issued here by Jon DeWes, representative of the non-profit American Institute of Fine Arts, who seeks to organize a chapter.

Area members now include Mrs. Dorothy Sippy, president of the chamber of commerce here; artist Jimmy Swinnerton, a member of the AIFA advisory board; and Walter Braunschweiger, advisory board member.

DeWes, who will open a patio art studio here, is a portraitist who specializes in painting on velvet and fluorescent painting.

"Our organization, with such members as traditionalist Dwight Eisenhower and honorary president Mary Pickford, is devoted to encouraging traditional art amongst young people," DeWes said.

Exhibitions of art techniques will be given here by Lynn Gerbenbach, James Stancin, and DeWes, the artist said.

Hammaraskjold's Canonization Leaves Doubt He Met the Test

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It was the fortune of the late Dag Hammaraskjold to be instantly canonized upon his death in Africa Sept. 18.

This was a secular, strictly non-religious, canonization. It was effected by the genuine grief of the Western world expressed in honest tribute to a great servant of the people.

That this canonization may have been premature is a second guess on the Western world's sentiment at the moment of Hammaraskjold's death. It must have been premature, however, because canonization must presume a freedom from sin and error. A secular canonization, of course, would presume freedom from political sin and error.

There is at the least substantial doubt that Hammaraskjold could meet that test. Hammaraskjold initiated and began the United Nations' war on Katanga, the rich Congo province. Hammaraskjold was chief administrative and executive officer of the United Nations when Povel Bang-Jensen, a Danish U. N. diplomat, was squeezed lifeless through the U.N. wringer.

Maybe a Tie-in

Perhaps the U. N. war on Katanga and the Bang-Jensen case have a relationship. Judge Robert Morris, formerly of New Jersey and now president of the University of Dallas, is qualified to have an opinion on that. A further qualification is that Morris was for some years counsel of the U. S. Senate subcommittee on internal security. Moreover, Morris was Bang-Jensen's counsel before the harassed Dane's body was found in a New York City park.

Morris wrote recently that in 1956-57 Bang-Jensen and some potential Soviet defectors tried to warn the United States that the secretariat of the United Nations was under the control of the Soviets. "Under control of the Soviets," is precisely Morris' language.

"They also tried to tell us," Morris wrote, "that our own

(United States) foreign intelligence was infiltrated by the Soviet secret police."

These warnings came to nothing, never got through. Morris further asserted that the Senate subcommittee inquiry had proved that there was no resistance whatever to Communist infiltration at the United Nations, nor was there any proper security check or security system.

Czech-Trained

Morris relates this alleged Soviet influence in the U. N. secretariat to U. N. policy in the Congo. First, U. N. policy was to restore the Communist-oriented Lumumba parliament in the Congo. Vice premier Antoine Gizenga controlled that parliament. Gizenga has been described as a Prague-trained Communist.

DESERT BRAEMAR

BILL RIGNEYS ARRIVE ON HIS BIRTHDAY FOR DESERT SEASON

The Bill Rigneys arrived Tuesday — his birthday — from their Oakland home for a season on the desert, bemoaning the fact that Oakland police are active against minor traffic violations, such as running through a red light, when the fine assessed is $12.00. We reminded Bill that Braemar charge for a similar offense is much less.

He is the uncle of his namesake Bill Rigney the famous Baseball manager and is himself a baseball player of former years.

The Jim Torrenses, Mrs. Ruth Galbraith and Fred and Catherine Wines enjoyed a motor trip recently through Cherry Valley and the upper Yucaipa area and adjacent apple orchards. They report the high altitudes extremely dry, the apple trees, as well as other trees and shrubbery and grass, as dry as tinder, a real fire hazard. The highway department has posted signs reading "No smoking while traveling" throughout the area. The highway is in excellent condition and the market for apples, cider and fresh eggs for which the district is renowned is very active.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. McKibbin of Laguna Beach were weekend visitors at the Clarence Conrads. McKibbin is a retired drugist, and his wife is a sister of Braemar Director Conrads. Motor trips we made through the Coachella Valley and to Joshua Tree Monument Park.

A meeting has been called in the interests of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation to be held in the new lounge at Desert Braemar for Tuesday Nov. 21, at 8 p.m. Plans call for a chapter to be formed at Braemar. Active in this worthy cause are Mrs. Sid Freeman and Mrs. Marvin Licker.

Mrs. Janet Floan arrived from Portland, Ore., to join her husband, Leonard, who preceded her by a week to occupy their Braemar apartment for the season.

Dorothy and Pat Page are entertaining her two sisters, Mrs. C. R. Wraith and Mrs. J. C. McDermott, both of San Francisco, for a few days.

The Lyle Coopers of Hollister are expected shortly and word comes that the Myron Galls are due about Jan. 1.

June St. Clair, ticket chairman for Desert Braemar, reports just about 100 per cent sales for the WAIF Style Show Nov. 25 at the Riviera.

Coming from Chicago, via Apple Valley about six weeks ago, thence to Palm Springs and to Desert Braemar, where they purchased the Allen Irving apartment, Bert W. Anderson and wife are now established as bona fide desert residents and liking it. They were active in the community life of Rogers Park, Ill., being members of the Rogers Park Baptist Church, where Anderson was treasurer and financial secretary. He is a graduate of Drake University of Des Moines, Iowa, and was president of the Delta Sigma fraternity. He is also a member of the shrine. Mrs. Anderson was a member of the Woman's Club of Rogers Park and was active in other civic groups.

M. A. Zapp motored south from Portland, Ore., to occupy his Desert Braemar apartment for three weeks for a vacation. He will return in January for a longer stay. Zapp owns and operates a group of drug stores in the Portland area.

W. F. (Bill) Arnold arrived several days ago from Chicago to open his Braemar apartment. His accounting business in Chicago occupies much of his time, but he always enjoys a few weeks of relaxation here on the desert prior to tax accounting during January, February and March, returning later for a second vacation.

Mrs. William Lodge of LaJolla, her daughter and two young sons spent the weekend in the Lodge Braemar apartment.

Johnnie and Barbara Wugan of San Pedro, visited several days with Stax and Ann Graves here. Wugan is water department engineer in San Pedro. In the last world war he and two companions who were in the air service were shot down in Russia but finally escaped.

John and Ruth McClelland of Longview, Wash., flew in last night after a three-day stop at San Francisco with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Natt. He, retired from the U. S. Air Force, McClelland is publisher of the Longview Daily News covering southwest Washington area. They deny bringing the recent rain with them.

Delta Kappa Gamma Society Honors Susan Bird Coombs

A pioneer Banning woman, Susan Bird Coombs, who has been in the educational field for a total of 57 years, was honored when the Delta Mu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society, International Honor Society of Women Educators met at North Shore Beach & Yacht Club.

A "This Is Your Life" type of program paid tribute to Mrs. Coombs, who came to Banning in 1890. In 1899, she and her sister Marian were the first and only two graduates from Banning High School. She then became one of 500 women students on the Stanford campus, graduating in 1903 and returning to Banning to teach.

Five years later she married Robert H. Coombs and they have lived in the same house on West Ramsey Street since 1911. There they raised their children, including a daughter Marjorie Harnage, who is a teacher in the Palm Springs school system. Mrs. Coombs has two granddaughters, who are carrying on the tradition, one is already teaching and another is preparing for a teaching career.

Reviewing a full life, it was brought out that Mrs. Coombs has served her community in many capacities, on the board of trustees of Banning and of Riverside County. She is a life member of PTA and the Affiliated Woman's Clubs, and has been active in Girl Scout work. In 1957 she represented the Delta Mu Chapter at a regional meeting in Hawaii.

Recently her many contributions to the educational and civic life of her community were recognized, when a new junior high school was named for her.

The Riverside County Chapter of Delta Kappa is represented in Palm Springs by Mmes. Clara Alcorn, Allie Anderson, Eddie Mae Clifford, Doris Dohn, Stella Fulmer, Marjorie Harnage, Nadine Hillery, Geraldine Howlett, Myrtle McCoy, Mary Mitchell, Harriet Rogers, Lucile Steck, Donna Sybus, Evelyn Williams and Miss Louise James.

The crisp Thanksgiving type weather and the snow on the mountains jolts you into remembering that Christmas (sing it softly) is just one month away.

Over at Claremont "Las Posadas," the famous story of Christmas in Old Mexico, has already started its annual holiday run. Now in its 30th consecutive season, the play changes pace from a simple story of a humble family at Christmas faced with a dilemma to the dramatic dream sequence, the scene of the Nativity and the battle between angel and devil. Its spectacular stage effects and delightful songs and dances have charmed audiences at over 1,400 performances. The playhouse, of course, is at Padua Hills three miles north of Foothill Boulevard.

Clifford and Virginia Heinz spent the Thanksgiving holidays at their new Eldorado home with son Bobby home from Ojai for the occasion, and daughter Sharon. Joining them for dinner at the Club were his mother Mrs. Sarah Heinz, who flew over from Hawaii to be with them, her mother Mrs. Franklyn B. MacCarthy, sister Lorraine MacCarthy Hogan and son Mark, and the Elbert Elkers and their children, who are down from Los Angeles to spend the long holiday weekend at Desert Inn.

Muriel and Abe Lipsey, who returned last week after two months abroad (they saw Bing and Bob in London), spent Thanksgiving at their Tamarisk Country Club home. With them were the Frank Stranahans who flew over from Phoenix. They will stay for the weekend as Abe and Frank are playing in the tournament at Bermuda Dunes.

Ed Houghton flew out from Chicago to join his wife Millie, who has been occupying their El Mirador bungalow for a couple of weeks. With them were the Al Howes and Mrs. Howe's mother from Los Angeles, and Rosalyn Danforth, who had been guesting with Millie. They are all scattering tomorrow as Millie wants to celebrate her birthday on Dec. 4 at their town house.

Elsinore Machris is collecting clean, used clothing which she will send down to the needy families in Tecate, Mexico, assisting a program set up by Deborah Szekley several years ago.

Gladys (Mrs. Paul William) Lawrence of Palm Springs and Lido Isle, spent Thanksgiving here at her El Alameda home, with Mrs. Hudson Scholl and daughter Lizette as houseguests. Lizette, a junior at Bishop's School for Girls in LaJolla, is a member of the swimming team.

A note from Enor (Mrs. James) French says that Dad is improving and they hope to be down in Palm Springs next week.

The pumpkin pie was seasonal (what's Thanksgiving dinner without it?) but the angel food birthday cake, iced and candied, looked better to Mrs. Theodore Mueller of Redlands, who celebrated her 90th birthday on Thanksgiving Day at the Palm Desert home of her daughter Mrs. James J. Mitchell. Gathered around the festive board, honoring the nonagenarian, were two other daughters, Martha Mueller of Redlands, and Mrs. Grant Hoge of San Marino, four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Orchestra Leader Fred Waring is among the first scheduled to move into a Bermuda Colonies home bordering the first fairway at Bermuda Dunes. The just-opened colony comprises a cluster of 28 multi-million-dollar homes.

Murray Seiffert, who was at El Mirador last year is writing his friends from the Beverly Wilshire, where he is executive assistant manager.

MRS. FRANK BENNETT, chairman of the Community Day Nursery, and Miss Gertrude Thaxter, a member of the board of directors, as well as attorney for the new group, are delighted as they look over checks that have been received for the Day Nursery building fund, from Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hicks, Mrs. Charles E. Dant, and the $2500 donation from the Desert Golf Classic. Palm Springs Chapter of WAIF, which has underwritten the operational expenses for the Day Nursery, today staged a benefit fashion show luncheon, presented by Robinsons Palm Springs, at the Riviera, partly to raise money to add to Day Nursery funds. Don Rice to Entertain Clubwomen

A sparkling program of rare humor opens the holiday season for Palm Springs Woman's Club on Monday, Dec. 4, at 2 p.m., when Mrs. Howard Matthews, program chairman, presents Don Rice, a much sought after entertainer, noted for his unusual style and delivery. Mrs. Matthews says that the well-known humorist has been featured at important clubs throughout the country and has appeared on television.

Following the business session, which will be conducted by President Mrs. Irwin D. Wright, and the stage program, refreshments will be served to members and guests.

Mrs. C. L. Wanamaker, tea chairman, will be served by Mmes. James Cavett, Leon Larson, Chester Matson, William Ross, Harry Samuelson and Lotia Choate.

Town's Name Is A Real Twister

By HARRY FERGUSON
LONDON (UPI) — Letter from Miss Kathryn Schattel, student at North Junior High School, Waco, Tex.:

"Dear sir: I was reading the paper on the morning of Oct. 18, 1961, and I came across the enclosed article:

"'London, (UPI) — The town of Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrobwllllantysiliogogoch, Wales, has found its railway station nameplate, police said. The nine-foot long plate was stolen by unknown pranksters."

"The town in that article has a very interesting name. I went to the atlases, dictionaries, and encyclopedias in the library at North Junior High School, where I am a student, but could find nothing.

"Still very curious, I wrote to the newspaper. Miss Williamson, who answered my letter, said they had no information about this town and sent me your address and told me if I were still interested I could write to you.

"I am still curious and I wonder if you would send me some information on that town. If this request is not possible, please send me the name and address of someone in that town so that I can write to them. Thank you very much."

Dear Kathryn: I have never had the pleasure of visiting Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrobwllllantysiliogogoch, but I can assure you that there really is such a place. I am enclosing a picture of the railroad station with the sign back in place. The man standing right under the final goch is the station master. When your letter arrived, we immediately got in touch with some experts on Welsh names and I am glad to send you the following information:

It is pronounced "lann-fare." It is located on the Isle of Anglesey in north Wales.

It has a population of about 600.

One reason there are so many letters in the name of the town is that when translated from Welsh into English it means: "Saint Mary's Church in the hollow of the white hazel near to the rapid whirlpool and to Saint Tysilio's Church near to the red cave."

Season Brings Changes in Sales Pattern

By JESSE BOGUE

UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—When the Christmas shopping season got under way today in many cities, the toy maker's products were on the store shelves, and his product was moving to the consumer.

The maker of a lawn mower—which could be a present for someone, but is less likely to be taken as a toy—can be watching his stock pile up, waiting for the spring and summer months which are his big shopping season.

In those same months when the lawn mowers are "moving," the toy maker may be filling up storage space again, and his materials and finished products will be moving at a slow pace. But each has the same problem: the need for working cash, usually through borrowings, in periods when goods are piling up.

Or a major producer of household appliances may desire to store, in security, a complete line of goods in an area where dealers might not customarily stock too great a variety, yet would want ready access.

American Express and some other concerns say that one of the answers to this matter of making full use of the value of stored goods during any portion of a business cycle is the use of field warehousing. AE has a separate corporation, employing 800 persons in 23 cities in the United States and Canada, supervised by Executive Vice President Donald K. Miller, to handle this trade.

In a discussion of field warehousing written for the magazine Credit and Financial Management last year, B.F. Edwards Jr., San Francisco banker, pointed out that under the use of field warehouse receipts, credit could be given on such diverse things as logs in ponds; hairs from the tails of horses; canned commodities for sale months from loan date; even feed lot cattle.

Club Dues
NEW YORK (UPI) — Fashionable city clubs are feeling a financial pinch as soaring costs are outstripping increases in dues, according to Horwath & Horwath, accountants to the hotel industry. The only type of club that is doing moderately well is the luncheon club.

Holden Says He Doesn't Miss Hollywood

By HENRY GRIS

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UPI) — "Let's just say I don't miss it."

The speaker was screen actor William Holden and he was talking about Hollywood, which he left two years ago because, he said, he wanted to be a "free man."

Holden, his wife, Ardis, and their two sons, West and Scott, came to Switzerland. He said he could live here in "peace and comfort" and still be only a couple of hours away by jet from almost any movie location.

Now the family's villa on the shore of Lake Lemman has become home base for a three-continent shuttle that takes Holden regularly to Hong Kong and to Kenya, in Africa.

Part Owner

And not only for movie-making. Holden is part owner of a radio station in Hong Kong and of a de luxe country club in Kenya.

"I don't think people have fully understood what I've tried to do," he said in an interview. "I'm getting enough letters from cranks telling me off for all kinds of sins, topped by my allegedly running away from the tax collector."

"Why don't they want to understand that I'm hanging on to the prerogative our forefathers fought for, the prerogative of being a free man? I love the world. I love to fly over it. I love to come down through the clouds to find myself in my house by the most beautiful lake in the world; or to descend into teeming, invigorating Hong Kong."

Holden said "I have learned a lot since we left Hollywood." "The most important lesson was to appreciate the world beyond," he said. "I am never alone. Ardis is for the most part with me. The children are growing up and we can afford these days to leave them alone in Switzerland without parental supervision."

Stays Busy

The 43-year-old veteran of 20 years in Hollywood said he had completed a picture for Leo McCarey, based on Pearl Buck's "China Story" at Elstree's sound stages in England. Next on his schedule was a film in Kenya, "The Lion," and back to Normandy for a sequence in Darryl Zanuck's "The Longest Day." Then to London for a Paramount picture.

"I like the London studios," Holden said. "They are as comfortable and practical as any in Hollywood and a mere four hours away, door to door, from the studio to my villa on Lake Lemman. Ardis and I make it there for the weekend each Friday. What more can one want? Only one thing and that comes in mid-1962—a holiday in Hong Kong."

"This, then, is my world. In it I speak no other language than my old American English. Although I am a Lausanne landlord, my French is non-existent."

But I am getting along nicely, thank you. I've found that the knowledge of the local language is less important than liking the people themselves.

"So do me a favor and tell those cranks to lay off, will you?"

Dog's Dogs

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—Four small leather items on display bring the same question — "what are they?"

"Dog shoes," Cates replies to all queries. Then he explains the leather pull-ons are for his bird dog, Ike, to protect his feet from grass burrs.

Browns-Giants Tiff May Decide Champ

By United Press International

The New York Giants, who in past seasons have had pretty good luck beating the Cleveland Browns with a rugged defense and Charlie Conerly's know-how, try it again Sunday with those same unyielding defenders and a more forceful air attack.

A crowd of nearly 80,000 was expected to watch the Browns take on their old nemesis at Cleveland, with the Eastern Division lead in the National Football League at stake. The Browns were favored by 2 points.

Since the Browns joined the NFL in 1950, this has been one of the fiercest rivalries in pro football. And although the Browns hold a 12-11-1 edge in their series, they have had their troubles with the Giants ever since Otto Graham retired as quarterback.

Arnold Palmer shows a marked forward bending of both knees as his clubhead strikes the ball.

ARNOLD PALMER's game, like that of most former champions, eventually may succumb to swing kinks such as his forward knee bending as his clubhead strikes the ball. You might argue: "Why worry about such a thing as long as you can play like Palmer?" Arnold would like to win all tournaments for a long time. Consistent success for any player requires all possible swing efficiency.

Palmer's knee bending, like Byron Nelson's body dipping, is part of an up-and-down body movement. This is foreign to the Correct Swing Pattern. The most efficient use of the body is had only through maintaining the same heel and toe balance with the head held constantly at the same level. Only this alignment enables the body to work in harmony with the arms and hands.

All departures from this lineup force the player into some difficult and unreliable form of compensating.

It is this compensating, more than any other factor, that increasingly lowers the player's swing efficiency to a minimum.

MARLIN TROPHY in the 12th annual marlin and sailfish championships in Mazatlan, Mexico, was awarded to Myron Blackman of Palm Springs. Shown receiving the award from an unidentified Mazatlan seniorita, Blackman piled up the most points by catching four marlin with 27-lb. test line, the lightest used in the fishing there. The complex point system allows more points for catching with lighter line and Blackman was able to out-fish the anglers with heavier lines.

Hemet to Meet Wildcats In Playoff Friday

INDIO — The Hemet Bulldogs won the dubious opportunity of meeting a high school jager-naut — Brea-Olinda — in the semi-finals of the Class A division of the California Interscholastic Federation's southern section next Friday night. They reached the plateau here last night over the Indio Rajahs, 12-6, in a game in which they needed the breaks to win.

A mental lapse on the first kick-off of the game by a young Rajah was just enough difference to turn the game to a Bulldog victory. When Banning kicked off, little John Hinojosa, 131 pound junior, let the ball roll and it was recovered by Bronco halfback Jim Acton on the Indio 15.

A Short Haul

From there, it was a short haul to the end zone and the score that made the point-givers look good when they called the Bulldogs a one-touchdown favorite.

Even so, the Hemet team needed another break or two to keep possession of the game when the Rajahs came back strong in the second half — and very nearly scored twice in the final period instead of just once.

The second score missed by a stride or two when end Bryce Pelren was just out of the end zone when he caught a pass from Bill Thrasher which would have tied the score — and a subsequent extra point might have won it.

Actual scoring in the game came in the first and second period for Hemet when Dennis Nord and Kenny Martin ground out scores. Indio's only good score came on a one-yard punch after an Indio fumble was recovered by the Rajahs on the six inch line. Thrasher culminated a long 69 yard Indio drive after all-league guard Ray Engels intercepted a Hemet pass on the Bulldog's 31.

Horse Massacre

While all this was going on here, the Broncos of Banning were being tamed by the annual Brea powerhouse to the tune of 59-7. Led by backs Steve Ledbetter and Paul Warsaw, the Wildcats made shambles of the second place Desert Valley League team and had run up their entire score before the Broncos could get their lone touchdown in the records.

It proved to be a bad night for the DVL teams as they were both eliminated. Only score turned in by Banning was made on a 66-yard dash by Sam Strange when the Wildcats were all relaxed thinking about the trip to Hemet next Friday night.

In other CIF playoffs, Redlands beat Anaheim in an unusual way last night by being awarded the game on first downs after the game ended in a 20-20 tie. In another Class AAAA playoff, Arcadia beat San Bernardino in the Orange Show Stadium by a 13-7 score.

In Class A results in the bracket which will produce an opponent for the Hemet-Brea winner, St. Bernard's defeated Santa Clara by a 26-6 count. They'll meet the winner of the Villanova-St. Monica game as the Tri-Valley and Camino Real leagues close out action.

Jacksnipe Hunt Starts Dec. 2

LOS ANGELES — Special arrangements have been set up for jacksnipe hunting on the Imperial Waterfowl Management Area at the southeast end of the Salton Sea, according to the Department of Fish and Game. Jacksnipe season opens statewide next Saturday — Dec. 2 — and continues through Dec. 31.

Jacksnipe hunting will be allowed every day during the period of Dec. 2 through Dec. 8 at the Imperial facility as well as on the DFG's more northerly waterfowl management areas at Gray Lodge, Grizzly Island, Los Banos, San Luis Wasteway and Mendota.

After the second half of the waterfowl split season opens on Dec. 9, however, jacksnipe hunting will be allowed only on waterfowl shoot days by persons holding regular waterfowl shooting permits. Waterfowl shoot days at the Wister unit of the Imperial Waterfowl Management Area are Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Permits will be issued to jacksnipe hunters without charge at the Wister unit headquarters.

Bermuda Dunes Ladies In Annual Turkey Shoot

The annual Turkey Shoot of the Women's Golf Auxiliary at Bermuda Dunes Country Club was held the day before Thanksgiving with medal play.

First low net was scored by Mrs. Jack Foley with a 77, while second and third went to Mrs. Edward Coffey and Mrs. Will Kelly with 78's. Low putts honors went to Mrs. Mortimer Cohn.

BARREL RACING is one of the events to be held a week from today in the second annual High Point Show of the Valley Quarter Horse Association. Photo shows Diana Chapman, 14, competing in the Palm Springs Rodeo last January. She is expected to compete again next Saturday at the Polo Grounds in the show to seek to improve her third place standing in the state. Events are scheduled for both Saturday and Sunday.

Marine Base Plans Service Bowls Tourney

TWENTYNINE PALMS — The Marine Corps base here will hold its 3rd Invitational Bowling Tournament on Dec. 1-3 at the Base Lanes.

The tournament will be composed of approximately 24 six-man teams from Armed Forces bases throughout California, Arizona, and Nevada. The first roll is scheduled for noon on Dec. 1.

An "open house" will be held at the lanes for all those interested in observing the tournament. Presentation of trophies will be on Sunday evening, Dec. 3. Trophies to be given out will be first and second place in: team competition with individual trophies to team members; doubles event and the singles event.

The important All - Events winner and the person who takes second place will also receive trophies for their efforts.

WALTER BURKEMO, above, is among a strong contingent of local golf bigwigs who will join Bob Rosburg, Jim Ferrier and Lloyd Mangrum in topping a field of 50 pros in the third annual Pro-Member-Guest Bermuda Dune 36-hole golf tournament starting today. The best ball foursome event will include such localities as Ely Vines, Zell Eaton, Tommy Jacobs, Jack Konecker and Dale Anderson. Paul Runyon, who headed last year's winning foursome, will not be on hand. Celebrities teeing off include Desi Arnaz and Phil Harris.

LAKERS STILL WINNING; ST. LOUIS STILL LOSING

United Press International

New York City has many attractions but none is more pleasant to National Basketball Association teams than visiting Madison Square Garden to play the New York Knickerbockers.

The Los Angeles Lakers made the most of their first opportunity to pick on the weak sisters of the Eastern Division Friday night with a 100-89 victory that marked their 15th win in 18 games. It was the lowest-scoring game in the league so far this year.

Elgin Baylor scored 34 points and Jerry West tallied 23 to lead the Lakers, who overcame an early New York lead with a 10-1 spurt. The Lakers coasted thereafter and led by 70-53 with five minutes remaining in the third period. Richie Guerin had 29 points for New York.

Oscar Robertson, celebrating his 25th birthday, scored 31 points as the Cincinnati Royals beat the Syracuse Nationals, 127-125, and the Detroit Pistons defeated the St. Louis Hawks, 142-135, in other games.

Wayne Embry had 32 points and 16 rebounds and Jack Twyman had 24 points for the Royals while Dolph Schayes scored 32 for Syracuse. Don Ohl's 36 points were high for Detroit and Cliff Hagan scored 29 points for St. Louis.

The Hawaii Chiefs are having more trouble in the American Basketball League than an eskimo on a surfboard.

The Chiefs lost their tenth straight Friday night to the Chicago Majors, 94-84, before 3,149 unhappy fans at Honolulu's Civic Auditorium.

In other games the rampaging Kansas City Steers stampeded the Los Angeles Jets, 121-108, and the San Francisco Saints made their foul shots good to overcome Washington, 95-92.

Hawaii had hopes, but only briefly, Friday night. They hopped off to an 8-3 lead but the Majors caught and passed them with 15 seconds left in the opening period on a field goal by Jack Fitzpatrick. The Chiefs tied it several times after that but never recaptured the lead.

A Chicago scoring spurt propelled the Majors to an 80-66 lead in the final quarter, and they held on to win by 10 points. Former Harlem Globetrotter Governor Vaughn of the Majors led all scorers with 26 points, 18 of them coming in the second half.

At Kansas City seven of the winning Steers scored in double figures — but not league scoring leader Bill Bridges, who was held to only five points, the smallest output of his pro career.

Twelve three-point goals were registered in the game, seven by Kansas City and five by Los Angeles, four of these by Larry Friend.

Dan Swartz led the losers with 25 points to take high point honors. Nick Mantes had 23 and Larry Comley 21 for the Steers.

The Saints scored 39 points from the free throw line in dominating Washington in the capital city. The Saints iced the game when Gene Brown sank four of five from the foul line in the last two minutes.

Deadline Nears For Hunt Filing

SACRAMENTO — Hunters seeking reservations on state-managed waterfowl areas for the Dec. 9 opening of the second half of the waterfowl season must have their applications in by Nov. 29, reminds the Department of Fish and Game.

Hunting dates for the second half of the split season on 11 state-managed waterfowl shooting areas statewide are Dec. 9, 10, 13, 16, 17, 20, 23, 24, 27, 30 and 31, and Jan. 3, 6 and 7. Applications for advance hunting reservations, available from any hunting license agent, must be received by the DFG's Sacramento office at least 10 days prior to the hunting date desired.

Tomorrow Is Opening of Polo Season

Host Eldorado kicks off the Palm Springs' winter polo season tomorrow when they meet visiting La Jolla at the Eldorado polo grounds at 2 p.m.

Heading the host team in the first of the weekly matches at the polo grounds behind the Eldorado Country Club is Bob Smith, a five goal player, who is playing number three.

Captaining the visiting La Jolla team and also playing number three, is Jack Conant, a four goal player. Rounding out La Jolla for the six chukkers of action are Ed Hall (1), number one; Willis Allen (2), number two; and Gale Medlicott (1), number four.

The rest of the Eldorado team includes Club president Will Tevis at number one; Ted Pierce at number two; and Dick Neville at number four. Eldorado, like La Jolla, is rated at eight goals.

The weekly matches are open to the public at a nominal charge. The line-ups are:

Brewer in Golf Lead With Putts

By JACK McDAVITT Jr.

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—Slender Gay Brewer, putting with a magic wand, teed off today in the third round of the Mobile $15,000 Sertoma PGA tournament with a commanding four stroke lead.

The Crystal River, Fla. pro nipped par by six strokes Friday to burst ahead of newcomer Leo Biagetti of Ashland, Ohio, Johnny Potts of Shreveport, La., and Tom Nieporte of Bronxville, N.Y. Brewer fired rounds of 69-66-135 to 139 for Biagetti, Potts and Nieporte.

The 29-year-old Brewer used only 29 putts Friday. "It was one of the best rounds I've had in quite a while," Brewer said. He missed only two greens of his second round and did not have a bogey.

Pott, last year's runner up here, fired a three-under 69, as did Nieporte. Biagetti, the club pro who makes just the winter tournaments, shot a 70, one stroke above the 69 that tied him with Brewer and Ken Siedl for the opening round lead.

George Knudson of Winnipeg, Canada, was one stroke behind with a 140 total. Knudson fired his second 70 of the tourney.

Arnold Palmer, defending champion here and golfing's money-winning record holder, shot a 70 for a 36-hole total of 142, tying Dan Sikes of Jacksonville, Fla., who recorded his second 71.

Freddy Haas, the veteran New Orleans pro, and Frank Boynton of Corpus Christi, Tex., fired Friday's second best rounds, four-under 68's. The sub-par rounds left them tied at 143 with Jon Gustin, the Birmingham, Ala., pro now playing out of Gladwyne, Pa., and John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Television in Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—The cast? Same as last time: Dwight D. Eisenhower and Walter Cronkite. The setting? Same as last time: The Eisenhower home in Gettysburg, Pa. The format? Again, same as last time: Conversation.

And despite these basic production parallels, Thursday night's "CBS Reports," the second in the three-part "Eisenhower on the Presidency" series, was a much more satisfying hour than the first, seen last month.

There are several reasons for the improvement. The agenda was spiced with current themes. The approach, by and large, differed from last month's program by being concerned with specifics—Quemoy-Matsu, Lewis Strauss, Red China, Suez, super-patriots, Dienbienphu, Hungary, the U2 incident, the Berlin crisis, the Bricker Amendment, "spirit of Geneva," the "open skies" plan—rather than broader philosophical questions. As a result, Thursday night's program not only succeeded in conveying again the former president's magnetism, it also managed to do so without making that aspect the dominant theme of the interview.

There was more to the show than the personality. But the biggest difference between the two programs was that Thursday night, Cronkite was more of a bulldog. Polite, as usual, but still a bulldog. He threw caution to the winds and asked a number of follow-up questions and the resulting exchanges were illuminating.

Although much of the interview was filmed last spring, Cronkite returned to Gettysburg this month to get some comments on topical matters.

On disarmament: "A little success will breed more success and this will be finally the way disarmament will come about."

On the Berlin wall: "That Soviet wall is not built to keep us out, it's to keep their people in. It makes more of a complete jail."

The de-Stalinization of Red Square: "It must be indicative of an uneasiness that our friend, Mr. Khrushchev, is feeling."

Super-patriots: "...We don't need these people who are more patriotic than you or anybody else who's a man of good intent and tries to be a good citizen. That's just rot, if you'll excuse the word."

Eisenhower permitted himself to personalize a reply several times during the hour.

Deadlock Hits Air Deal

By PHIL NEWSOM

Equal Rights
The Italians are getting tough with U.S. and British airlines over the matter of reciprocal landing and traffic rights. Talks with the United States on Alitalia's request for permission to land at Pacific Coast cities have broken down. The United States has refused, until Italy turns over traffic statistics, which Alitalia so far has declined to do. In return, Italy is threatening to refuse Rome landing rights either to TWA or Pan American. A British delegation is now in Rome trying to re-negotiate BEA, BOAC and Alitalia services between the two countries. Aviation sources say the talks so far are having rough going.

East to West

When West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer returns to Bonn in early December from trips to Washington, Paris and London, one of his first visitors undoubtedly will be Soviet Ambassador Andrei Smirnov. Khrushchev is reported to have instructed Smirnov to ask for an early meeting with Adenauer. Just what Khrushchev has in mind is uncertain, but according to Soviet diplomatic sources here, Khrushchev would like to meet with Adenauer in person, preferably in Bonn.

Defense

West German army officers believe the West's readiness to cope with possible Soviet tank attack is inadequate, and, as result,

NATO anti-tank tactics may come under review. Russia has more than 10,000 first line tanks stationed in East Germany, four times more than the 2,500 tanks Hitler used to defeat France in his blitz campaign of 1940. Soviet tanks are known vastly to outnumber the West's armor and to be of excellent quality. The West's major anti-tank defense now is Western tanks and guided missiles of a French design. The French missiles are effective only at distances of more than 500 yards in Western Europe terrain, combat against tanks at such distance will be rare, officers predict. They think NATO troops must be able to crack tanks at any distance between 10 and 200 yards.
